except a wristwatch that beats to your rhythm.

Constructed out of titanium, the automatic watch features Titan's very own automatic movement with a power reserve of up to 40 hours. The Divers 500m automatic also has a helium escape valve to protect the watch under extreme pressure. Its deep-blue dial features hands and indices that use X1 C3 Swiss Superluminova for brilliant luminosity in low-light underwater conditions. All this protected by sapphire crystal glass with a three-layer arc.

Also available in 300m, 200m and 100m. Whatever mysteries you uncover under the sea, time standing still will probably not be one of them.
